Dear Delegate

We are extremely happy that you have put your trust in Malta into hosting the 39th edition of the World Medical & Health Games in Malta in June 2018. We are informed that the organisers are preparing something truly special for this occasion and together we are working in ensuring that your stay in our islands will surely be a successful and memorable event. We also hope that you will find time to visit some of the historical sites and places of interest in our capital city Valletta - designated European Capital of Culture in 2018 - and elsewhere in Malta and Gozo.

Dear friends,

After a very successful edition of the Medigames in Marseille, France, this year we are offering you the opportunity to discover an unprecedented destination in the history of the World Medical and Health Games.

For the first time, the island of Malta will host the Medigames. The richness of its history in the heart of the Mediterranean Sea and in Europe's beautiful South, promises some beautiful discoveries.

This year we have striven to create a united area in Saint Paul's Bay: the Dolmen Resort hotel will be the heart of our event and will host the Games Centre, all the daily activities as well as the opening ceremonies and the enclosure. Other good quality hotels and all within walking distance will also be at your disposal creating a unique Medigames Olympic Village atmosphere.

In addition, the quality and proximity of all the sports venues will be two major assets, making the 39th edition a particularly pleasant one to enjoy.

We are looking forward to sharing human and professionally enriching moments with you, but above all unforgettable sporting moments with colleagues from all over the world.

Pierre Lusinchi
Chairman of the organisational committee of the World Medical and Health Games

YOUR STAY IN MALTA .7

THE MALTESE ISLANDS – TRULY MEDITERRANEAN

Blessed with a mild climate and set in crystal waters, Malta and its sister islands of Gozo and Comino offer you a memorable experience, where moments of complete relaxation can be combined with the exploration of the islands' many cultural, artistic and natural treasures.

Long considered to be a microcosm of the Mediterranean and a favourite with travellers who seek an authentic island experience, our islands offer an impressive range of historical and cultural sites, together with a wide spectrum of activities, making Malta a truly unique year-round holiday destination. Not surprisingly, Malta's walled capital city of Valletta has been selected as the European Capital of Culture in 2018.

Moreover, Malta has developed into a highly sought-after location for international movie productions, while Valletta's majestic Grand Harbour welcomes cruise liner passengers from all over the world.

The Maltese Islands are a feast for the senses. Their landscape offers an exhilarating contrast of colours: the azure of the Mediterranean, the honey-coloured limestone of their timeless architecture, the deep reds and brilliant yellows of their flowering countryside, all under a spectacular blue sky. Outstanding historical sites can be found everywhere, a testimony to the islands' 7000 years of history. Megalithic temples, medieval walled cities, splendid Baroque palaces and churches, and mighty fortifications are a legacy of living history one can almost touch.

The tastes and aromas of Malta's traditional cuisine and wines are a delight for the palate, just as the joyful tunes of its typical village bands are to the ear. Renowned for the genuine friendliness of their people, the islands of Malta, Gozo and Comino welcome visitors with a rare blend of ancient and modern, of discovery and relaxation, guaranteed to be a different and memorable experience for all.

MALTA, CONGRESS READY !

Built on a stable history of hospitality, the Maltese Islands have hosted a considerable number of corporate and association conferences throughout the years. This European Union member state is centrally located at the heart of the Mediterranean. Its direct flight connections, many of which are less than 3 hours away from main European gateways, make it an easily accessible meeting hub for delegates from Europe and all over the globe. English-speaking and with a reputation for exemplary customer service, the Maltese Islands also offer good value for time and money. The Euro currency is the official currency used on the Island.

For such a small Island state, Malta has a high profile in the M.I.C.E. Industry for its ability to cater to events of all sizes: from small high-end incentives and board meetings to large annual conferences and exhibitions. Nowhere in Malta is more than 5km away from the sea and delegates are sure to appreciate that special island feeling as they enjoy sea views. The size of the islands greatly facilitates the planning of an event packed programme. Malta is also a very popular destination for Association meetings, particularly those hailing from the medical and academic field.

Malta has long been investing in tourism and its infrastructure and has gained an excellent reputation for hosting all manner of events through the joint effort of experienced industry professionals, suppliers, venues, hotels and the local Government.
